The notion of obligation also plays a critical role in Sen's analysis. Logically speaking, the classic Sociological Perspectives on Sex Work and Human ... In the United States and beyond, there is often a wide disconnect between grounded empirical evidence about the sex industry and policies on sex work and human trafficking. In this introduction, we briefly review empirical and critical scholarly literature on sex work and human trafficking policy within the United States. We then introduce three sociological articles that provide compelling ... (PDF) Universe (article in Interdisciplinary Encyclopedia ... Technology, however, does not exhaust human beings' "lordship" over material creation. Such a lordship is also manifested by a sober use of material goods, not seeing them as absolute and unconditioned ends. In other words, before the universe, human beings exercise our contemplative, religious, moral, artistic, and technological capacity. The Capability Approach: a theoretical survey The Capability Approach: a theoretical survey INGRID ROBEYNS Ingrid Robeyns is a research fellow at the Department of Political Science and at the Amsterdam School of Social Sciences Research, University of Amsterdam Abstract This paper aims to present a theoretical survey of the capability approach in an interdisciplinary and accessible way.
